

Local Government Symposium

Panel Hosted by Karen Lightman and Stan Caldwell – October 21, 2021

SMART CITIES INSTITUTE

A transportation research institute of Carnegie Mellon University

Carnegie Mellon University
HeinzCollege
INFORMATION SYSTEMS • PUBLIC POLICY • MANAGEMENT

Carnegie Mellon University

Solving Real-World Problems through Collaboration and Innovation with Municipal and Equity Partners

Research, Development and Deployment of Technology for Municipalities in Southwestern PA

Technology, Policy, People

Innovative information & communications technologies are enabling smart city applications and revolutionizing society.

Key Projects:

- Smart Mobility Challenge
 - Research assistance for municipalities, public transit operators
- Government-to-University Initiative
 - Building pathways for careers in public service

Kim Lucas,
Acting Director,
Pittsburgh Department of
Mobility and Infrastructure

Kelly Maurer
Director of Public Works,
Cranberry Township

Thank You!

Connect with us!

<https://traffic21.heinz.cmu.edu/>

<https://www.facebook.com/traffic21.tset>

@Traffic21CMU

<https://www.youtube.com/user/Traffic21TSET>

stancaldwell@cmu.edu

Connect with us!

www.cmu.edu/metro21/

<http://metro21.libsyn.com/>

@Metro21CMU

www.linkedin.com/company/metro21/

metro21@cmu.edu

